

Florida State University Cycling Club History

2009-2010

This year the club saw a growth with many new and dedicated members, such as Lambda Chi VP Chris Sandelli (who started biking due to high gas prices), Chris Carhart, Sean Smith, Josh Valentine, Melanie Burns, Stacey Zbiciak, Collin Watts, Jeff Vivo, Leigh Graziano, Liz Gerrity, David Friedt, Jason McArthur, and Savannah Sill. It also saw the come back of Nat King and Bryan Caughey (injured from the previous year).

The team also redesigned the team kit that was inspired by the Cervelo Test-Team jersey and utilizing the FSU Spears everywhere. The final design was mocked up by Elray Designs and includes a new bike shop sponsor, Great Bicycle Shop (GBS).

The team competed in most of the collegiate MTB season with Bryan Derstine qualifying for Collegiate Nationals in Angel Fire, NM.

Derstine and Erich Kopp heavily competed in the Florida Cyclocross Series with Derstine finishing the season off in the top 3 in the Mens A and Kopp winning the Mens B division for the season.

FSU Cycling hosted its first road race in years, utilizing the classic Havanna Hills RR course and the Sleepy Hollow crit course. The road team, largely composed of Men's C, was led by Derstine (Men's A) and Jack Tomassetti (Men's B). Standout performances came from Sandelli, Vivo, and Valentine all getting great results. The team enjoyed many race weekends together, especially at Clemson. Derstine qualified for Collegiate Road Nationals in Madison, Wi.

The club secured funding from the school at the end of the year after a year of keeping on top of paperwork for a full year. The club received $950 to pay for conference and nationals race fees and a cycling stationary trainer.
